

Autobiography

Past tense

First person

Time order

Time connectives

Facts: named people, places, things

Personal details, thoughts and feelings

Your homework task is to write your own autobiography. This will be the story of your life to date.

Of course you will not have time to write about absolutely everything. Choose the most significant and interesting events of your life to date, and remember to convey your personality through your writing.